About An Intertextual Analysis of Zechariah This book conducts an in-depth study on the ideas about future salvation in Zechariah In accommodation of the allusive character of the text, Lee uses the methodology of intertextual analysis to examine the markers in the text. I aim at offering an intertextual analysis of Zech 9–10 in order to trace the nature of the earlier restoration expectations in Second Zechariah. An examination of the restoration themes in these two chapters in light of their intertexts reveals how Zech leverages earlier biblical material to express its vision for restoration.
